

1st contest for Young Professionals of the hydrocarbon industry

Addressed to

Young professionals of the hydrocarbon industry under 35 years (inclusive), whether these are students or graduated. Authors must be under the aforementioned age. Papers can be presented individually or in groups, and shared by professionals of different companies.

Papers

They will be presented as a paper and in a wide variety of topics, such as geology, engineering, environment, sustainability and project assessment, as long as they are related to the activity.

If selected by the Jury of the sessions, authors can also decide to incorporate their papers to the Congress papers.

Participants must send their proposals through the contest registration form and, therefore, submit a document with its project and fill out a form with their contact information and email address.

Deadlines:

- Paper presentation: until July 31, 2019
- Announcement of the three finalists: August 31, 2019
- Presentation of the final papers: during the Congress

Jury

The jury will be composed by well-known professionals of our industry, who will select the best three papers. The order of appearance will be voted (i.e. 1st, 2nd and 3rd positions) during the the Congress and through the vote of those present.

Awards

Awards will be given on December 13th (in the traditional year-end lunch at the Sheraton Hotel). The awarded paper will be published in Petrotecnia magazine (and a summary of papers that obtained the 2nd and 3rd position will be published)
